The School of Science of the University of Rome “Tor Vergata” is located in a building which houses four academic departments: Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics. Professors’ rooms and labs are located on the ground floor and first floor. The second floor houses the classrooms, the scientific library, the Administrative Office for Students, the Students’ Service office, Didactic Offices and Erasmus Students Office.

The Faculty has a range of study facilities supported. These include:

- ◊ 38 classrooms.
- ◊ A scientific library with study spaces for individual and small groups; borrowing; PC workstations including the use of Internet for researches;
- ◊ 15 Didactic and Multimedia Laboratories.

MACROAREA INFORMATIONS

Please note: The exchange program must be in coherence with study programme at the home university (i.e. a student from Biology cannot join an exchange programme for Law students, he/she can choose one exam from another pertinent faculty).

Italian is the main language of instruction at the University of Tor Vergata. Some programs and courses are also taught in English language.

Students can choose 1 or 2 courses in other Faculty.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

The students must be nominated by the Home University through our online mobility tool:
<https://mobint.uniroma2.it/erasmus/areaPartner>

The credentials to be used will be sent by email to each partner.

REGISTRATION: REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

BEFORE YOUR ARRIVAL

First, Exchange students must be nominated by their home university. Please send your application to the link sent by email or to the Erasmus Office of the Faculty of Science at erasmus@scienze.uniroma2.it.

All students must register on mobint.uniroma2.it/Erasmus (our online platform) and activate their account. To complete the procedure successfully and meet the requirements of each section, please complete the entire registration.

Once the application form is completed, the student will receive his first matricola number from the Erasmus Central Office.

After registration, students are required to send the Learning Agreement to the Erasmus Office of the Faculty of Science for approval and signature.

CREDITS AND GRADING

The Degree Courses' organization and evaluation system are based on the ECTS credit system to allow students mobility across the European Community and validation of the exams taken abroad. 1 CFU credit of the Macroarea of Science is equivalent to 1 international credit ECTS. Each credit requires 25 hours' student work, that include lessons, laboratory practice and private study.

Master's degree students must have acquired the 180 ECTS of the bachelor's degree.
